Included in the price	The dice pricing includes full customization (all faces) with adjusting customer's design to our manufacturing requirements, preparing a graphic visualization (3D render) of the dice, manufacturing, painting, finishing touch, and quality control.
Possible 5% discount	The price can be lowered by 5% if you let us manufacture 50 dice/sets more for the Q Workshop Collector's Subscription. INCLUDED
Price adjustments	This quote is subject to price adjustments if final designs have not yet been verified by Q WORKSHOP. Please see the "DICE DESIGN" section for more details.
3D render fee	After both parties agree on the design, we will prepare a 3D visualization of the dice. There will be a render fee of 50 USD / 40 EUR / 40 GBP that will be subtracted from the order cost later.
Additional fees	It's the client's responsibility to make themselves familiar with customs regulations in the destination country and cover any additional taxes and costs.

TIME FRAME
Time frame	Estimated shipping date – February 18 th 2022
The time frame is counted from confirming the start of the production process by the manufacturer to the date of the shipment.

DICE DESIGN
Design file	We accept vector files in PDF (preferred), SVG, AI (CS6). If a specific font is used in the design, please change it to curves (objects) and provide its name if possible. If vector files are not possible, we accept high-resolution JPG or PNG files.
Design cost	-Adjusting your graphic design to our manufacturing requirements is free of charge (vector file preferred), - simple designs (numbers, signs, simple symbols) based on a picture, sketch, or description provided can be made free of charge, - preparing a complicated design from scratch will require an additional fee. The pricing will be treated individually.
Alterations	If you wish to make any alterations in the design after we adjust the initial design, you'll be able to do so two more times. If the final design is not established after that, there will be an additional design fee.
Design requirements	We have a few general manufacturing requirements that are shared upon request. However, our graphic artists need to consider many other subtle factors while revising every design. Therefore we reserve the right to make the final design alterations.
Design confirmation	The final design needs to be accepted by the client before the production process starts.
Crowdfunding	If you crowd-fund your project, it is highly recommended to verify your design with us before you launch your campaign. You cannot include any visualization with our brand in your campaign if we did not confirm the design.
Colors	Color schemes of the dice presented on the renders are illustrative only. Colors visible on the screen may depend on the screen quality, the device's settings, and other factors. The colors of the final, physical product may differ from what you can see on the screen.
Copyrights	For legal reasons, we cannot make any dice that include a graphic motive used in any game that you are neither the author, producer, nor editor of, i.e., you do not own the copyright. Placing the order means that you confirm you have the right to the design.

ADDITIONAL TERMS AND CONDITIONS
Shipping	The buyer covers the shipping cost. The seller is responsible for organizing the shipment using a courier service. Incoterms: EXW
Holidays	Please factor in the following holidays to the production schedule: August summer holidays break (Aug 1st – Aug 31st), Easter (March 2nd – March 5th), Christmas Dec 23rd – Jan 2nd)
Dice balance	We do not make precision dice, i.e., perfectly balanced dice. Due to the intricacy of design, and many factors that vary depending on the project (such as machine settings, material, pressure, temperature, type of dye, colors), some imperfections in balance are allowed.
Prototype production	Prototypes will differ from the final product of serial order. Slight differences in the dice size, the difference in dice color shade, minor differences in the design
Photos of the dice	Once the custom dice production is finished, we may want to use the photographs/renders of the dice: - on our social media profiles - on our website gallery, as a part of our portfolio - possibly in the catalog and other promotional materials (as an example of a custom dice project). Remember that we will not be sharing the graphic design itself, just the photographs/visualizations of the dice. If you wish for us to wait until a specific date before publishing the pictures, let us know, and we will respect that date. While posting the photos on social media, we can tag your fan page and/or include your company logo in the Facebook post. If you do not give us permission to use photos/visualizations of your dice for marketing purposes, please let us know, and we will not use them.
Warehousing fees	We provide free warehousing for three weeks after production is completed. After three weeks, if your product remains in our warehouse, we will charge you 15 USD per week.
Non-Shipment	If the product remains in our warehouse after six months from finishing the production, we reserve the right to destroy the product to avoid additional warehousing costs. The deposit payment will not be refunded.
Confidentiality	This quotation is confidential and contains legally privileged information.

Email your account manager with a scan or digital photo of all pages of this quotation to indicate your acceptance of our terms and conditions.
